EFFECT OF STREETS TOLD BY CRECELIUS

Important Pointers Regarding Maintenance, Matter of Car- ing For Them Told

Col. S. F. Crecelius tells the people of Richmond some interesting things about keeping their new paved streets in good order in an interesting letter written to the Daily Register just before his departure for Texas for a short visit before going to Danville to take charge of additional street work there. Col. Crecelius gives Richmond some mighty good advice about maintenance of the new streets. What he says will be of much interest to all.

Editor Daily Register:

The public depends largely on newspapers for ideas and guidance in municipal matters and very few people think that they have any duties to the city unless they are reminded frequently through the press.

Knowing that you have the interest of Richmond at heart, I take the liberty of addressing you on the subject of public works.

Richmond has taken her first step in municipal improvement and, by the way, it was a good, long, firm step; and she now has about two miles of permanent streets and up to date sanitary sewers in the principal streets.

This is good, but is only a beginning. Every resident of Richmond who does not live on or do business on a principal street will want his street paved and he will want his property connected with the sanitary sewer system and he should have his wish granted.

First, because conditions will be more sanitary.

Second, because it looks better and gives the general public pleasure.

Third, because it increases his self-respect.

Fourth, because it gives the city a good reputation.

Fifth, because he has already helped his neighbors to get these benefits and should share them.

Sixth, because it is good sound business economy.

None will question any but the last reason. Some people, however, do not know that the real cost of streets is not the original cost of construction but cost of construction plus the cost of maintenance plus the cost of protection plus the value of lost time, that tells the whole story of the cost of streets, keeping in mind always that one's property has a higher value on an improved street than on a poor one. Usually this increase in value alone is greater than the original cost of the improved street.

The question that presents itself is what does Richmond need in the way of public improvements.

The answer so far as streets and sewers is concerned is that she needs streets of the same quality as those constructed on Main street to the city limits both ways, on Lancaster avenue to the city limits and on Second and Third streets to the railroad now. The remaining streets should be paved as quickly as possible but on most of these streets the travel is much lighter than those mentioned and cheaper types of paving may be used with satisfactory results.

The city should strive to cut down maintenance costs by each year putting a large part of available funds in permanent construction until eventually when all streets have been paved maintenance will mean little more than cleaning.

The city must look forward eventually to building a sewerage disposal works at the outlet of all sewers and extending sanitary sewers in each street before construction.

The engineer looks upon his work very much as he does upon his children. He loves them and wants them given the best opportunity to be useful and admired. Richmond has good streets and sewers and they will be both useful and admired if given a fair chance.

Among the things that are necessary to get the best results are the following:

1—Flush the streets at least twice a week.

2—Inspect and clean catch basins at least once a month.

3—Flush sanitary sewers at least once a month, and if necessary often in hot weather.

4—Keep gutters on connecting streets open so drainage will not be held on the new streets.

5—As soon as possible all streets joining the new streets should be graded back to eliminate bumps and new macadam placed and treated with tarvia. These approaches should be at least thirty feet long so mud will not be carried on to the new streets in large quantities.

6—The parking ordinances should be enforced, changing parking space back and forth every two weeks to allow all parts of the streets to be traveled uniformly.

7—Abuses such as spilling kerosene, gasoline, building fires or driving heavy vehicles with lugs or cleats on the wheels on the streets and driving against curbs at corners should be corrected by creating sentiment in favor of protecting common property or by punishment if necessary.

8—Public service openings should not be allowed in the new streets except where absolutely unavoidable and any openings made should be repaired and put in as good condition as the original street.

9—Last but not least, why not have the streets admired?

Probably few people in small cities ever think how much they could improve the appearance of their property at very little cost. I would suggest the elimination of fences around front yards and care of grass plots and lawns in the residence districts and proper regulations for collecting and disposal of trash and waste and unnecessary obstruction of walks with boxes, barrels and other unsightly objects as the greatest needs of the business district.

The walks on Main street between Second and Third streets have grown in spots without regard to a common grade, resulting in a condition both ugly and dangerous and it is suggested that in all probability the business men have sufficient civic pride to get together and remedy this glaring defect if some one would take the initiative. The improvement in looks of properties and comfort to pedestrians that would result from this improvement can readily be seen and is always remarked on by strangers.

The jury was comprised of the following: B. B. Boen, foreman; James Withers, Alvin Fox, Bob Hazelwood, W. K. McHone, and William Hazelwood.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon from the Powell home, where a wife and several children survive. Powell was a farmer.

MAN MEETS DEATH; FALLS OVER CLIFF

Body of Joseph Powell Found After Search of Two Days; Sustained Broken Neck

After a two days search, the body of Joseph Powell, 46, who disappeared from the neighborhood of Big Hill where he lived on Tuesday afternoon, was found at the bottom of a cliff, the neck having been broken and the body bruised from the fall from the ground above, a distance of about 30 feet.

Powell left a party of friends on Tuesday afternoon, after it is claimed, drinking bout had been indulged in. He did not reach his home and the search was taken up. It continued until the second day. The body was taken to his home after Coroner Muney had been summoned. The latter summoned a jury and held an inquest with the verdict that the man had met his death through falling over the cliff. The demise was contributed to accidental causes.

Among the witnesses summoned were Wilson and John Settles and Frank Pigg. These three men, according to Coroner Muney, testified that they had been with Powell and had been drinking. They said Powell had a revolver and threatened to shoot them, although they were all good friends. The weapon, witness said, was taken from Powell after which he left the party. This was the last seen of him alive.

The jury was comprised of the following: B. B. Boen, foreman; James Withers, Alvin Fox, Bob Hazelwood, W. K. McHone, and William Hazelwood.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon from the Powell home, where a wife and several children survive. Powell was a farmer.

XMAS MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR MORROW

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 24.—Gov. Edwin P. Morrow today issued the following Christmas message to the people of Kentucky:

"CHRISTMAS"

"For Kentucky and its people I wish a Christmas born of the spirit of the day. A Christmas sanctified by tenderness, generosity, sympathy and the love which forgetful of self goes out to the unfortunate and to those who feel the touch of poverty and the hand of affliction. In every home I hope there will abide peace, happiness and love; and that the light upon the hearthstone shall fall upon faces made radiant with the glow of happiness. For city, town and countryside I pray that the day may be one not stained by crime; not brutalized by homicide; not debased by drunkenness."

"For all—into every heart I hope will come the closing words of the angels' song—"Good Will to Men."

"EDWIN P. MORROW,
Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky."

Second mass at 8:30. Father Schulte will talk on Christmas Relections.

TO YOU AND YOURS OUR CHRISTMAS WISH

It requires not the occasion of Christmas with its joys, cheers and prevalent good will, to arouse in us a sense of appreciation due patrons of this paper.

In our heart and minds are gratitude and good thoughts for you during every day of the year; but Christmas hallows our sentiments and makes their expression fitting and timely.

Such as we have accomplished and such good as may be traceable to our efforts would not have been possible without your sustaining power and co-operation. If in any sense we have upheld a beacon, you have supplied oil for the lamp. If ours has been a chariot, yours has been the motive element which has kept it on its way.

All characters appealing to or endeavoring to entertain the public, must be given a certain meed of applause or they cannot exist. With those engaged in publishing a newspaper, the applause comes in the interest which readers manifest in its columns and in an occasional word of approval. The practical help of subscribers and advertisers has enabled us to maintain a publication standard; their encouragement has furnished the degree of pleasure necessary as an incentive to our daily tasks.

May the spirit of Christmas work for you the full degree of its bountifulness. May you be enabled to get the same amount of pleasure and benefit from these columns that we have derived from making them.

PLAN CO-OPERATIVE TOBACCO MARKET

Central Kentucky Growers Also Protest Against Increase in Tax

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 24.—Plans for a co-operative tobacco marketing company were approved at a conference of Central Kentucky tobacco growers here yesterday.

A resolution protesting against the proposal of the secretary of the treasury that the tax on manufactured tobacco be increased 6 cents a pound also was adopted. The marketing company plan, which will be finally passed upon by the executive committee of the organization, follows closely the co-operative plan of the southern California fruit growers, according to John W. Newman, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association.

The plan was formulated by directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, bankers, warehousemen, farmers and the raisers of tobacco.

Preparations for the opening of the burley tobacco market here on January 3 are in full swing, although to date the farmers have been slow about getting their tobacco to the warehouse. Approximately 5,000,000 pounds now are on the sales floors.

The slowness of the farmers is attributed by warehousemen and buyers to the agitation that has been under way for several weeks looking to holding off the market of enough tobacco to force the price to a level which the farmers say will enable them to make expenses and a fair profit. Prices offered in the early markets were far under the cost of production, it is alleged.

KING SWOPE TO SUCCEED SLATTERY

Washington, Dec. 24.—Kentucky Republican leaders have reached an agreement relative to the distribution of federal patronage under the Harding administration, it was learned.

Each Republican member of Congress from Kentucky is to have control of the patronage that pertains to his district, while Senator-elect Richard P. Ernst and National Committeeman A. T. Hert are to pass upon the merits of applicants from the eight districts reported by Democrats, and also determine appointees for federal positions from the state at large.

Representative King Swope, who was defeated last month, is to be named United States District Attorney for the eastern district of Kentucky, according to reports. It is predicted that Mrs. Cora B. Stephenson, of Louisville, is to be given an important position in Washington.

At the various orphanages and hospitals there will be Christmas trees, Christmas dinners and presents for all. At the state institutions superintendents and wardens plan to relax the more rigid rules and have made special provision for the day.

At the Kentucky Institution for Feeble-Minded Children there will be a Christmas tree tomorrow morning with presents for every child. The superintendent, Dr. T. L. Taylor, has provided a special dinner for tomorrow.

Christmas presents, dinner and in fact everything possible to make the patients, students and inmates happy as possible are planned for the other institutions.

Special programs tonight with a day of celebration tomorrow are planned for the Kentucky School for the Deaf at Danville; Kentucky School for the Blind at Louisville; Children's Home at Louisville; Central State Hospital at Lakeland; Western State Hospital at Hopkinsville, and Eastern State Hospital at Lexington. Relatives and friends have sent gifts for the students and patients and the State Board of Charities and Corrections has made provision for a special dinner at each.

At the Kentucky House of Reform, Greendale, Superintendent Hickman has planned a special celebration for his juvenile wards, while at the reformatory here and the state prison at Eddyville, the authorities have provided all the cheer possible for the inmates.

A CHRISTMAS THOUGHT

A lot of pretty things are always written about Christmas time but few will reach the spot that the following from the editorial columns of the Stanford Interim Journal does:

If you are away from home Xmas and God has been good enough to you that the dear old mother who brought you through travail and pain into the world is still living, sit you down and write to her a letter in which you recall, if you can, the many thousand loving deeds that she has done for you since first she looked upon your little ugly red face and thought you the most beautiful being in the world. Tell her how you appreciate all that has done for you, how her love and sympathy have been a beacon light to you along the path of life and how glad it makes you to send the substantial present that you send along with the letter.

But, better still, go home and see your mother. She'd rather see you Christmas day, rather have you hold her in your arms for a minute, rather have a kiss in the edge of the gray hair from her grown-up daughter or grown-up son, than all the fine presents you possibly could think of to take to her or to send to her. It is the same mother love as that which bade Mary wait at the foot of the cross, that inspired the poet to write:

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine,
I know whose voice would surround me still,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine.

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine,
I know whose love would come down
to me,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine.

And yet, oftentimes, how careless we are of the loving, gentle, tender, old tired heart that has kept sacred in its depths of the memories of our babyhood days, with the sweetness and the sorrow and the suffering; the dying hours of other children who did not survive to receive their mother love in years of maturity. It is a blessed privilege to have a mother, as those of us who have lost one can testify. Be not forgetful of her happiness in this beautiful Christmas season, not lay yourself liable to regret with tears and agony your seeming neglect of her after she has been gathered to the Angel Choir. God bless the mothers. They are the salt of the earth. May we place a proper value on them always.

Is Everybody Happy?

While yet there is time, everyone of us can do something for some one else that will bring happiness.

A smile, a slap on the back, a kind word, a sack of flour, a dollar bill, a load of coal or whatever is needed, be what it may.

Then the old world will smile with us and we can be assured that the Babe of Bethlehem will bring happiness to all of us.

If we have been a help, have rendered a service during 1920, we are happy. We now set out anew to solve new problems, to render better service for 1921, to help make the old world better for our having lived in it.

We are especially happy, and we should be, for it looks like everybody trades at

Are You Keeping Something From Your Wife?

Take our advice. Confess up today! It doesn't pay. Even the tiniest fib you ever told will some day confront you and in friend wife's eyes the molehill of the past becomes the mountain of the present. Take the chap in "HER BELOVED VILLAIN," the romping French farce at the local theatres Saturday, as your example. You can wager that he became a second George Washington for truth ever afterward. Our last word—tell it to your wife, that "HER BELOVED VILLAIN" is at the local theatres.

Pendleton's Turkey Crop

(By Associated Press) Falmouth, Ky., Dec. 24.—The turkey crop bids fair to be one of the most important products of the Pendleton county farms, according to James T. Cannon, a commission merchant. Many big sized turkeys have been sold this year for the Christmas trade, but the largest yet reported was one raised by T. J. Jones, weighing 36 pounds. John Schatz sold one that weighed 34 pounds. These turkeys brought 35 cent a pound.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement recorded in Carolina, the Woman's Voice, Miss Westy Mabe, of Kernersville, has recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weak and run-down condition. I became druggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag."

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good."

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did."

"I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, feeble and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Richmond. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

Mr. Carrie Long, 352 Fifth st., Richmond, says: "A few years ago I was down with kidney trouble, and for two months I couldn't straighten my back or turn in bed. I was helpless and every time I moved, the pains were so severe that I would scream. My limbs and joints were swollen and stiff. I had a dizzy swimming sensation in my head and objects seemed to float before my eyes. My kidneys were weak and caused distress. I tried all sorts of medicines with no relief. Finally I took Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon cured me of every sign of the trouble. I was able to do my work and my back was well and strong."

ACID IN FOOD BROUGHT TROUBLE

A Case of Pellagra Left Mrs. G. A. Wilkerson's Blood in Bad Condition. Every Time She Would Eat Acid Food She Would Break Out. Tried Re-Cu-Ma and Tells Wonderful Story of the Good it Has Done Her

From Cheraw, South Carolina, comes a wonderful story of the effects of Re-Cu-Ma on Bad Blood. Mrs. G. A. Wilkerson writes us as follows: "I had pellagra four years ago and it left my blood in bad condition. It would break out every time that I ate anything with acid in it. I took one bottle of Re-Cu-Ma and since that time I haven't seen any signs of this trouble. I can't give Re-Cu-Ma praise enough for I have been benefited in other ways than just through my blood."

If you are suffering with some of the effects of bad blood why not heed the advice of Mrs. Wilkerson? Re-Cu-Ma may be just the thing that will bring you relief. It is does you have received the knowledge of a priceless remedy for your case. If it does not, every druggist who sells Re-Cu-Ma is instructed to refund your money if after four days it has not materially relieved you.

If pimples and eruptions on your skin show your blood to be in bad condition try Re-Cu-Ma.

IN KENTUCKY MOUNTAINS

Residents of Famed Blue Grass State Awake to Advantages of Uncle Sam's Securities.

Southeastern Kentucky towns are responding most energetically to the offers of Treasury Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps in the campaign waged by the Postmasters.

E. W. Hackney, postmaster at London, in Laurel county, sold Treasury Savings Certificates to the value of $4,000 and War Savings Stamps to the value of $9,500 in January. "Has any third-class office sold more?" asks Postmaster Hackney in a letter to the Savings Division Organization at St. Louis. "How is this for a small town in the Kentucky mountain country?"

Williamsburg, in Whitney county, is also piling up a good record. Postmaster E. E. Pritchard, who last fall made a most enviable record, is keeping up the good work, and in January he sold several $1,000 certificates and many $100 certificates, in addition to a large volume of War Savings Stamps.

SHOULD HAVE A JOLT.

President of Carnegie Steel Company Says We Are Alarmingly Extravagant.

This country needs a jolt to bring it out of its present riot of reckless spending, according to Homer D. Williams, president of the Carnegie Steel Company. At a recent meeting held in Pittsburgh to aid the campaign of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department for the advancement of thrift and safe investment, Mr. Williams said:

"This country is going through a period of alarming extravagance. People in all walks of life are spending money without reason and apparently with no thought of the future. Unless some check is put upon this prodigality this country before long will be brought into a serious situation."

This very condition is the reason why every person in every station of life should be deeply interested in the thrift program. This country needs an awakening. It should have a jolt if we could give it that."

KEEP STATE FROM REAR.

Mrs. Frances E. Taylor Heads American Revolution Thrift Society.

Miss Emma Crowell, National Thrift Chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution, announces the appointment of Mrs. Frances E. Taylor of Rolla, Mo., as State Thrift Chairman for the Missouri Chapter.

Mrs. Taylor's patriotism is as great as her enthusiasm and she writes: "I do not want Missouri ever to be in the rear." One of the first acts of her office was to ask all members of the local chapters in Missouri to take the Women's Thrift Pledge.

ONE REASON JAMES J. WAS EVER SUCCESSFUL

The Great Railroad Developer and Capitalist Says the Acid Test Is Ability to Save.

If you wish to know whether you will be a success or a failure in life, there is a simple, infallible test. Can you save money? If you can, you will win. If not, you will lose.

The fathers and mothers of this community wish to make sure that their children are successes and Mr. Hill showed how this can be done.

The time to form saving habits is while the children are young. They enter into the spirit of Thrift with enthusiasm and if taught it now and the habit is fixed while the mind is young and plastic it will follow them through life and prove a blessing to all concerned.

Every parent should see that his or her child has a Thrift Card and is encouraged to fill it out with stamps. Twenty-five cents is not a large sum to pay for a Thrift Stamp and if the habit is formed and the stamps regularly bought and placed upon the card, it will not be long before the child will have enough to buy a War Savings Stamp, which bears 427 per cent interest. This, in time, will grow into a $100 Savings Certificate if the purchase of stamps is continued.

If a boy of fifteen buys one Savings Stamp a month until he is twenty-five, he will have $700, including the accrued interest, and with this nest egg he can, on a reasonable salary, largely increase his savings and by the time he is thirty have $1,500 or $2,000 to invest in business.

If a father and mother, at the birth of a child, will buy two Savings Stamps a month they will have enough to send the child to college by the time it is sixteen years old. By that time the principal and interest will amount to $2,500, which will pay seven years' expenses in college.

Practically all great fortunes were founded on Thrift, which means working and saving. Washington, Franklin and all great men practiced it. Since the time of Joseph in Egypt there have been fat years and lean years and those who were wise like Joseph in laying aside something during the good years to meet the years of adversity, have been the happy and prosperous people.

Anyone can secure from the Post Master Thrift Cards on which the public can paste their Thrift Stamps.

Drew First; Shot Him 6 Times

Campbell, Ky.—At his examination trial, O. Lovelace, 20, Monticello, was allowed bail on the charge of having slain Sherman Hughes, 40, at Torrent. LICENSE DEMAND INCREASING

There is a steady increase in the demand for auto and truck licenses at the office of County Clerk Jennings Maupin, and clerks there are a busy lot. There are additional hunting licenses being issued, it is reported, owing to the holiday season being at hand.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

PINHOOKERS PAY 30C. PER POUND

First reports regarding the sale of Madison tobacco by pinhookers are out and to the effect that tobacco of a good grade is being bought for 30 cents a pound. One man named McCoy, living in the southern part of the county, is said to have sold 16,000 pounds at this price. He said he had more to sell, and disposed of this because he needed the money. He stated he could not take less for his good grade, while he did not know what he would be able to get for the inferior grade, as he had but little.

THERE'S XMAS SPIRIT IN THIS SCENARIO

With the spirit of Christmas in the air we are all getting ready for the festive day in one way or another. Some are doing their Christmas shopping early and others are still making out gift lists. The press paragraphers of the nation's newspapers are also getting into action and penning witty wordings about Xmas and the holiday season. At the theater last evening, we laughed at the clever quips so timely to this season, in that old film friend of ours "Topics of the Day." This reel of humor goes Santa Claus several better, because it "hands out" joy and laughter throughout the 365 days of the year. It assures movie patrons of a Happy New Year. Perusing the pages of publications, the Daily Register finds various timely paragraphs akin to Christmas time So—

Let's take a shopping trip with the newspaper paragraphers. We start down the main street on our Xmas shopping tour and there's—

The chestnut roaster's whistle at the corner, telling you that the worms are done.—N. Y. Evening Mail.

And a little later, we smile on hearing this—

Old lady, after waiting in a confectionery store for ten minutes, growing impatient: "Here, young man, who waits on the nuts."—Everybody's Magazine.

And a little further down the street—

One local store has a number of Xmas cards all decorated with fringe and finger marks.—North Adams, (Mass.) Herald.

And near the ladies' glove counter you nudge your nearest companion on hearing this—

Husband—"Come along! Keeping me here standing like a fool!" Wife—"Do be reasonable, dear. Can I really help the way you stand?"—Albany (N. Y.) Argus.

And as we pass the postoffice some one declared that—

Santa Claus gets credit for a great deal of faithful work that in reality is done by the letter carrier.—Washington Star.

Passing the apartment house on that prominent corner, someone comments—

Santa Claus won't be able to visit apartment houses this Christmas. They have rented the chimneys.—Los Angeles It.

And you retort that—

Due to the lack of coal, Santa Claus can come down the chimney without sooting his whiskers this Xmas.—Rutgers.

Then we hear this conversation on passing a neighbor's door—

Lady—"Are you the same man who ate my mince pie last week?"

Tramp—"No, mum, I'll never be the same man again!"—Albany (N. Y.) Argus.

Reaching home and feeling rather chilly we and our companions realize that—

Along about Xmas time the man with a quart of "the old stuff" will have no difficulty in swapping it for a corner lot.—Los Angeles It.

And after quenching our thirsts, the furnaces man puts in an appearance, whereupon you remark—

"Rastus, which do you prefer for a Christmas present, a ton of coal or a gallon of whisky?"—Boss, ah burns wood!—New Haven Journal-Courier.

And reluctantly you surrender the jug. Your companions all laugh at your expense. But, even though your register "surprise," you fill up the glasses and everybody is happy and full of Merry Christmas Spirit.

GOOD IT CAN'T TALK

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 24.—The following articles were found between the back and cushion of an old sofa on its arrival at a local furniture store to be repaired:

Thirty-five hairpins, sixteen suspender buttons, 12 poker chips, four pennies, 36 wads of chewing gum, two mustache combs, eight matches, four cigarettes, five cuff buttons, and last but not least, a small package of "nerve" powders.

An investigation showed that a salesman for the furniture store had purchased the sofa from a man having three unmarried daughters.

Negro Shot to Death

Louisville, Ky.—Curtis Huff, employed at the U. S. Marine hospital, was shot to death. William Lewis, barber also colored, is accused, but is at large. They quarreled over a woman, it is alleged.

Penny Damages to Man

Louisville, Ky.—R. L. Combs, who sued a printing company and H. W. Schaeffer, foreman, for damages, alleging that he was thrown out of the establishment after being discharged, was given a verdict of one cent against the foreman. It developed that ejection followed abusive language.

HORSES "EAT" XMAS GIFTS FROM THEIR TREE

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Dec. 24.—At a Christmas tree set up in the postoffice square, draft horses of the business district gathered around for gifts today. From the tree they nibbled apples and sugar lumps and from feed boxes ate their fill sugared corn on cob, carrots and oats. The affair was staged by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Drivers also were provided with sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee.

GRIDER IN THE FIELD

Game Warden W. H. Grider is sending much time in the field and will continue to do so until after the first of the year, since it is his desire to look after the interest of the game laws at this special season. There have been no violations in this immediate section, although there are said to have been convictions in other counties.

HERMAN LOSES HIS TITLE
New York, Dec. 24—Joe Lynch, the little boxer from the west side of Manhattan Island, who jumped into prominence about three years ago as a likely boxer, won the bantam weight championship title from Pete Herman, of New Orleans, in a 15-round battle at Madison Square Garden, Wednesday night. The men weighed in under 118 pounds. Lynch looked the much more drawn of the two men when the bout began, while Herman was in the better condition so far as looks went. Herman was an odd-on favorite in what betting was indulged in, three to two being freely offered that he would retain the championship. Both boys were nervous at the outset. Lynch's advantages of height and reach soon were apparent and excessive cautiousness on the part of Herman cost him any chance he might have had to hold his title.
